Crimes in Cincinnati.

An Epidemic of Bloody Murders and Suicides.

POLICE AND DETECTIVES BUSY.

A Brutal Negro, Crazed With Drink and Jealousy, Murders His Mistress, and a Few Hours Afterwards a Similar Crime is Perpetrated—A Juvenile Suicide—A Belligerent Editor and a Desperate Sexagenarian Commit Deeds of Violence. Four Murders and Two Suicides in Thirty-Six Hours.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Charles Craig, a colored coal shoveler, living at 165 Mound street, deliberately murdered his mistress, Annie Johnson. He was very jealous of his mistress and they had frequently quarreled and she threatened to leave him. Saturday he became crazy drunk and entered the house and stabbed her with a pocket knife, almost severing the head from the body. After he had stabbed her a number of times he threw the knife down and walked calmly away and surrendered himself to the police.

After being locked up he frankly admitted that the murder was deliberate and that he had always been a "fighting nigger," having cut a number of people before, and that he had served one term in the Kentucky penitentiary. He said he wanted to be hung for this last crime and wanted it done quickly.

ANOTHER OF THE SAME KIND.

Frank Williams, a Colored Bootblack, Commit a Similar Crime.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—A few hours after the Craig murder Frank Williams, a colored one-armed bootblack, who lived at 308 West Sixth street, committed a similar crime. He returned home and found his mistress out. He armed himself with a big knife and went out to hunt for her. He found her in a neighboring house, and without the slightest warning began his deadly work, stabbing her seven times, two of the wounds being fatal. She was removed to the hospital, but no hope exists that she will recover. He was arrested a few hours afterward and locked up.

Followed by Another.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—On Sunday night another terrible murder was committed, making the third one within thirty-six hours. Joe Cavanaugh, a well-known hackman, and Carrie Winner, a woman of respectable parentage, entered Kinney's saloon at Central avenue and McFarland street. Cavanaugh was slightly under the influence of liquor. He accused the woman of going with other men and in a fit of jealousy cut her throat from ear to ear. He resisted arrest and attempted to cut the officers, but they overpowered him and lodged him in Central station.

He Taunted the Editor.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Tom Riley, the Newport editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Sunday afternoon, shot and instantly killed City Engineer Jungerman. Several weeks ago Riley published an article accusing Jungerman of jobbery. The engineer resented it and there has been ill-will between the two men ever since. Sunday they met and during the altercation which ensued the shooting was done. Jungerman was a popular young man and sentiment ran so high against Riley that it became necessary to remove him to the Covington jail to prevent violent action on the part of the murdered man's friends.

A Youthful Suicide.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Henry Ritterman, a 14-year-old boy living with his parents on Poplar street, in this city, committed suicide on Sunday afternoon. Immediately after dinner his parents left him at home reading a five-cent novel, entitled "Muldoon, the Copper." When they returned several hours later they were obliged to force an entrance. A search of the house revealed the boy's body in a small clothes press. The lad had taken a handkerchief, fastened one end to a nail and the other around his neck. The place being too small to jump, he deliberately bended his knees and strangled to death. The boy was of a happy disposition, and his parents are unable to assign any cause for the rash deed. It is attributed generally to too much cheap sensational literature.

He Kept His Word.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—William Stumple, aged 60, on Friday told his family he was tired of life and was going to commit suicide. They laughed at him. He left home and nothing more was seen of him until on Sunday afternoon, when his corpse was found floating in the canal.

Horribly Mutilated.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 15.—Alexander Pickett, aged 10, was found lying in a dying condition at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, near the quarry hotel, in Georgetown. He had been slashed all over the body with a sharp knife and across his abdomen was a gash from which his intestines protruded. The ground near the spot indicated that a desperate struggle had taken place. John Shannon, who was seen with Pickett at a late hour Saturday night, has been arrested on suspicion of having inflicted the fatal wounds.

Burglar Shot by a Wounded Officer. JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 15.—About 3 o'clock this morning Officer May discovered a burglar in the store of the Joplin Hardware company. May's order to surrender was answered by a shot, which was returned by the officer. May fell wounded, but shot the burglar dead. The burglar's name is said to be Bill Meredith.

ROBERT RAY HAMILTON DEAD.

He Starts Out Hunting and His Body Afterward Found in a River.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 15.—J. O. Green, son of Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, returned to Helena on Friday after a tour of Yellowstone park.

Mr. Green says that on August 28, while on his way into the park from the Union Pacific, he stopped at the ranch of Robert Ray Hamilton, the New Yorker whose trouble with his wife at Atlantic City, N. J., caused such a sensation a year ago.

Mr. Green says that Mr. Hamilton had bought a ranch about two months ago, and made it an outfitting place for park tourists. On his arrival he found that Mr. Hamilton had been gone on a hunting trip for five days. The next day Mr. Green and his party started to hunt for Mr. Hamilton. About thirty miles from the ranch, Mr. Green found his body in Snake river, and his horse and dog a short distance away. Mr. Hamilton was identified beyond all doubt by Mr. Green, who had the body taken to the ranch and notified Mr. Hamilton's family. Mr. Green expressed surprise on his arrival here that the foregoing facts had not been published.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Detective J. C. Burkes Has a Narrow Escape in Marshalltown, Iowa.

OMAHA, Sept. 15.—A special to The World-Herald from Marshalltown, Iowa, says: Nearly a successful attempt was made here early Sunday morning to assassinate Detective J. C. Burkes, who figured so prominently in the notorious Rainsbarger and Henry Johnson murder cases in Hardin county. Burkes has been stopping here at the Wilson house for some time. Saturday evening the night clerk got him into his place while he went out to spend the night.

Shortly before 5 o'clock Sunday morning Burkes was passing through the office when he heard a pistol shot from the outside, and at the same instant a 38-calibre bullet crashed through the side window and missed Burkes about two inches. It passed through the partition wall and struck on the opposite side wall and rebounded on the floor, where it was found later. The detective ran out in time to see his would-be assassin skulking down an alley. He followed and fired four shots after the miscreant but none took effect, and the latter escaped.

Burkes arrested Marx and Rice in California last spring and brought them back here for trial for the murder of Henry Johnson, a brother-in-law of Rainsbarger. The brothers have since then made repeated threats against the detective's life, and this attempt is presumably another outbreak of the old deadly Rainsbarger vendetta, and it is evident that the end of the feudal warfare is not yet.

EXPRESS TRAIN WRECKED.

Twenty People Injured, Six Seriously, Forty Miles West of St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—The Kansas City express on the Missouri Pacific railway which left the Union depot at 9 o'clock Saturday night was wrecked by a defective switch at Glencoe, forty miles west of this city. There was no telegraphic facilities at Glencoe at the time and it was midnight before the railway authorities here were notified of the disaster. The forward part of the train passed the switch in safety but one coach, and the St. Joseph sleeper "Osage" and the Wichita sleeper "Havana" left the track, the coach and sleeper "Osage" rolling down an embankment.

There were twenty people injured, six seriously. Mrs. E. L. Norton, of St. Louis, is not expected to survive her internal injuries. Mrs. Mary Lott, of Kansas City, cut and bruised; A. C. Daly and wife, of Lebanon, Ind., internal injuries; James Cook, of Denver, fracture of arm; E. L. Norton, of this city, was internally injured.

A relief train left this city at midnight and returned at 3 o'clock in the morning with the injured. The Nortons were conveyed to their home and the others to the Missouri Pacific hospital. It is believed that all will recover. Nearly one hundred passengers were severely shaken up and all had a narrow escape from a horrible death.

A Great Cotton Crop.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 15.—Capt. Hancock, a cotton merchant, has returned from a ten day's trip through the cotton counties of middle Tennessee and Alabama. Mr. Hancock said that he had never seen better prospects for a large yield than at present. The planters are jubilant over it. Cotton is very fine, and with favorable weather and a late frost the yield will be exceptionally large. The averages are larger than for several years past. The cotton merchants here report larger sales for bagging and ties for the past few days than for the same period in several years. This is an indication of a very large crop.

A Sweet Blaze.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—Fire early this morning almost completely destroyed the T. O. P. Peckham Candy company's factory, occupying Nos. 405, 407 and 409 Main street. When the firemen, after several hours' hard work, succeeded in subduing the flames, a part of the wall fell, instantly killing a fireman, Daniel Lynch, and seriously injuring Fireman James Owens. The loss on the stock and machinery of the company is $100,000; insured for $75,000. On the building $35,000; fully insured.

The Week in Congress.

Probable Program of the Senate and House.

SOME ACTIVE WORK EXPECTED.

Several Important Bills to Be Taken Up and Discussed, Among Them the Anti-Lottery Measure. Filibustering in the House to Be Stopped—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The senate this week will work industriously on several bills which head the list of measures that the Republican caucus last week decided should be acted upon promptly, and before the close of the session. The conference report on the land grant forfeiture bill is still unfinished business, and is likely to be taken up and disposed of first. The anti-lottery bill, according to the Republican caucus program is the next thing to be considered and acted on, and will probably come up on Tuesday.

The bill for the relief of the supreme court of the United States is next on the list and this and the bill providing for the transfer of the revenue marine to the navy department which Senator Gray has given notice he will call up on Wednesday or Thursday, and the several labor bills that recently passed the house and which come next on the list of measures on the Republican caucus program are more than enough to occupy the time of the senate during the week.

The Republican leaders of the house have not only determined that the filibustering proceedings which were so successfully carried on last week, while the majority was endeavoring to call up the Langston-Venable contested election case for discussion, shall not be carried further, but have determined to administer discipline to the unruly minority by pushing through the contested election case of Miller against Elliott from the Seventh district of South Carolina, immediately after the Langston-Venable case is disposed of.

The discipline which the Republicans will enforce will consist in limiting the debate to about forty minutes, a vote to be immediately taken when the debate is closed. The Langston-Venable case is on the program for today, and the Republicans hope to have a sufficient number of majority members on hand to defeat any attempt on the part of the Democrats to break a quorum. In conformity with the action of the Republican caucus Saturday night the tariff bill will be reported from the ways and means committee early in the week, on Wednesday probably, accompanied by an order from the committee on rules setting apart for debate what the committee consider reasonable time.

When the time allowed for this discussion has expired a vote on non-concurrence in all the senate amendments will be taken and the Republican votes will send the bill to conference. It is believed by prominent Republican members and was so stated in caucus, that the conference reports will be presented in both houses in less than a week.

The rest of the week in the house will be consumed as the committee on rules sees fit. The general deficiency bill, with senate amendments, now in the hands of the appropriations committee of the house is likely to be reported back to the house during the week, with disagreements and a request for the appointment of a committee on conference.

Gen. Burrundia's Death.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Representative McCreary, of Kentucky, introduced in the house Saturday the following resolution relating to the death of Gen. Burrundia:

RESOLVED, That the killing of Gen. Burrundia on the steamer Acapulco by the authorities of Guatemala while on board an American ship and while under the protection of the flag of the United States, demands an immediate investigation, and the president of the United States is requested, if not compatible with the public interest, to transmit to the house of representatives all information in his possession concerning this transaction.

Saturday's Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Saturday's session of the senate was devoted exclusively to Randall eulogies, Mr. Quay making the opening address.

The house, after approving of the journals for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the week, listened to eulogies on the late Senator Beck, of Kentucky, and then adjourned.

Death of General John S. Crocker.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Gen. John S. Crocker, warden of the District jail, died suddenly Sunday morning of bronchial hemorrhages, at his residence in this city. He has been in ill health for some time. Gen. Crocker has been warden of the jail for twenty years. He personally supervised the execution of Charles Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield.

The Minneapolis Recount.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The census office announced the result of the recount of the population of Minneapolis as follows: Population 164,738, an increase of compared with 1880 117,951, or 71.75 per cent.

Two Children Killed by Horses.

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 15.—In Union township, this county, while Adam Stranch, a boy about fifteen years old was feeding horses, one of them knocked him down and trampled on his brains. When found half an hour later his head was reduced to a jelly. In the same township yesterday, the 3-year-old son of Virgil Stewart, was stepped upon by a horse, crushing his abdomen so that he died almost instantly.

A HALF YEAR'S FAST.

The Record Completely Smashed by a Pennsylvania Woman.

CARBONDALE, Pa., Sept. 15.—No case of fasting on record, either voluntary or involuntary, has ever compared in any way with that of Mrs. Adam Wuchter, of the village of White Hall, who has not tasted a morsel of solid food for 161 days, and not a drop of liquid food for 152 days.

Since the beginning of her fast Mrs. Wuchter, who is thirty-nine years old, has been critically ill, and she has suffered intense pain. Up to nine years ago she was in good health. About that time she began to fail, the first evidences of declining health being a spasmodic cough and a gradual loss of voice.

Eighteen months ago the cough became very severe and her voice sank at times to a whisper. Ten months ago swallowing became difficult, and in a short time she was unable to get anything down her throat except liquids. Her condition grew worse until she was able to partake of liquid food only at rare intervals, and then not more than a spoonful at a time.

Since Good Friday she has not taken a drop of water, although she complains of an intense thirst. The only way in which her thirst can be allayed is by placing one hand in a basin of water where it is kept for about half an hour so that the pores may absorb moisture. It is evident that the woman is suffering from cancer of the pharynx, which has grown steadily until the throat is almost completely closed. It is extending downward to the lungs.

Mrs. Wuchter's sight has almost failed, part of her body is paralyzed and she has not been able to speak a word for weeks. She is entirely pulseless, though the heart is nearly normal. The only responses she can make to the sympathetic inquiries of friends are groans. The physicians who have seen the woman can not account for her wonderful tenacity of life except that she is possessed of a remarkable "constitution."

KILLED HIS STEPFATHER.

A Boy Attacked by His Drunken Stepfather D Fends Himself with a Club.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 15.—Harry Strode, a beardless boy of 20, killed his stepfather, Thomas Burkhardt, aged 52, on the road near Centerville, a small town twenty miles south of this city, in this county, at 10 o'clock Friday night and the body lay on the road as it fell from that time till a late hour Saturday morning, when officials arrived on the scene from this city, the neighbors thinking they could not touch the body till the arrival of the coroner. The boy was brought here and lodged in jail.

Young Strode met his stepfather on the road near the latter's house Friday night, and when Burkhardt discovered it was his stepson he started at him with a knife. The boy, seizing a club, dealt him several blows on the head, leaving him lying on the road, and not knowing he was dead. The boy returned to the house, and informed his mother that he had had trouble with his stepfather, and had struck him. The two went back and found he was dead.

Burkhardt was under the influence of liquor at the time, and when in that condition was a violent and dangerous man. He was in the habit of abusing his wife, who was young Strode's mother, and that led to ill feeling between stepson and stepfather. The boy was not living at home, but was working out in the neighborhood, and was returning from a visit to his mother, while Burkhardt was absent. There is a strong feeling that the boy was driven to the deed, as he bears an excellent reputation.

DEATH INTRUDES.

A South Dakota Judge, Lady and Boy Killed and Others Seriously Injured.

DEADWOOD, S. Dak., Sept. 15.—Another fatal accident occurred Saturday on the Black Hills and Fort Pierre railroad, in which Judge Belden and Mrs. Snyder and boy, of Lead City, were killed outright, and many others seriously injured.

The railroad was running an excursion train from Deadwood and Lead City to a Masonic picnic, in which there were about 300 excursionists. As the train passed along a high embankment a heavy tree fell across the rear car, killing the above named persons, throwing the car from the track, and injuring others to an unknown extent. Physicians have gone to the scene of the accident.

A Woman's Effort to Shield Her Husband

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Sept. 15.—A few days ago William Cline, a resident of Bokeswick township, was arrested for blackmailing several of his neighbors. Saturday night his wife came here to secure his release on bail, but the bondsman she offered were not accepted. She then became angry, declared she had written the letters on which the charge against her husband was based, and that if any one had to go to the penitentiary she would go, and that she would take some one else with her, but Cline should not go. Thereupon Prosecutor Plum had the woman arrested and put in jail. The parties blackmailed are John Keller, from whom he obtained $350; John Winner, $20; David Hoosac. Sensational developments are expected at the trial.

A Highwayman Gets Done Up.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 15.—Last night "Chin" Murphy, a desperado held up in rapid succession, William Baily, Charles Smith and M. S. Pemberton. The last victim did not relish the treatment, and as "Chin" was turning to walk away, Pemberton grabbed him, and wrenching his revolver away and after knocking him down with it, sat on him until his calls brought the police to the scene.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1890.

JANUARY 1, 1888, the city of Covington had $5,000 cool cash and no floating debt. September 1, 1890, she was $92,000 worse off than she was two years ago, and has but little to show for the debt. Of course the tax-payers are kicking, and they have a right to.

THERE is wheat enough at Portland, Oregon, to load fifty-seven ships and to give $2,000,000 to the farmers, says an exchange. No "home market" for it. Has to be exported. This goes to sustain Mr. James G. Blaine in his opposition to the McKinley bill. It's a measure, he says, which does not provide a market for another bushel of grain or barrel of pork.

PLUMB, Paddock, Davis, Teller! All of them fought the Senate tariff bill bitterly. They abused it, they termed it monstrous, they exposed its fallacious precepts in vigorous satire and with hard common sense. What meant these distinguished gentlemen? Were they playing to the galleries only? Certainly no principle was behind their protest. Every one of them voted for its passage. Do they believe that their constituents can be hoodwinked by mere words?—Kansas City Times.

THE Philadelphia Record says: "The gerrymander which assures the absence of McKinley from the next Congress is as wrong in principle as any other gerrymander. But its victim is estopped from uttering one word against gerrymanders, by his lawless and shameless tariff gerrymander. That is worse than a whole bunch of 'shoe-strings.'"

The Republicans have profited so long by gerrymanders that when Democrats give 'em a dose of their own medicine it sticks in their throat.

SENATOR INGALLS, the windy jayhawker, had himself excused from making a speech on the tariff bill. It was too ticklish a question for a fellow from Kansas to tackle. Why? Simply because "it is a bill," says the Kansas City Times, "which every honest Kansan believes is a blow to Kansas." Ingalls is shrewd. He realized that he might "put his foot in it" if he opened his mouth. His action is an indication of the extent of the revolt in the rock-ribbed Republican stronghold of the West against "prohibitive protection."

THE Maysville Republican refers to the wages paid dockyard laborers in England—$4.88 a week it says—and adds: "This is the kind of wages the Democratic free trader wants the American laborer to get." This is an old stereotyped argument of our neighbor. Just as though the tariff has anything to do with wages. Don't the statistics show that laborers in high tariff France and high tariff Germany are actually paid less wages than those of free trade England? And hasn't the BULLETIN given figures showing that the poor, hard-worked, half-starved laborers in an institution right here in Maysville get but a beggarly pittance more for their week's work than the same class of laborers in free trade England receive? Oh, no, Mr. Republican, you can't stuff your miserable clap-trap arguments down the American workmen any longer.

You Repu-licans are like the fellow who cries "thief," and then the next instant is in the pockets of the crowd. You cry for "protection," while you are going through the pockets of the workingman, and robbing him on nearly everything he eats and wears.

The Situation.

The Philadelphia Telegraph, a Republican journal, thus discourses on the political outlook: "The Republican party has a heavy enough task on it to hold the House. The estimate of Mr. Clarkson, the retiring First Assistant Postmaster-General, is that in consequence of Democratic legislative work in Ohio and other States, it will be necessary for the Republicans to carry some twenty-five districts now arranged against them. This is anything but a promising outlook."

In New England the Democrats have nothing to lose, with a chance of winning considerable. They now have but two members of the House from all that section, while Republican weakness may give them six. Let the Congressional campaign be conducted along the general lines of Republican approved policy and well defined principles and all will be well. Let it be conducted on a grand effort to vindicate or glorify Speaker Reed, Mr. Lodge, or any other man, and it will be likely to prove a stupendous failure. The administration of President Harrison furnishes no special occasion for public criticism, but, unfortunately, neither will it give any great strength to the party anywhere, and in Indiana it has apparently lost influence to a marked extent. From this time on every movement along the political lines will become one of importance in the pending national contest."

PAYNTER.

He Has Made the District "An Honest, Faithful and Capable" Congressman.

His Re-Nomination Warmly Urged by the Democrats of Mason—Saturday's Mass Meeting.

The mass meeting Saturday was a representative gathering, many of the best Democrats of Mason County being present.

Many more would no doubt have been on hand, but there was no contest. All recognized that Congressman Paynter was entitled to a warm endorsement, and would receive it at the hands of the Democracy of Mason.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock by Major Chenoweth, who is still the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Judge Wall was placed in nomination for Chairman by County Attorney Newell, seconded by Mr. Martin A. O'Hare.

Commonwealth's Attorney Sallee nominated Dr. Adamson and the nomination was seconded by Mr. John C. Everett.

Judge Wall hoped the Chairman would withdraw his name, but the Chairman said that was Mr. Newell's privilege. Mr. Newell declined to withdraw Judge Wall's name.

Dr. Adamson thanked Mr. Sallee for the honor done him in naming him for Chairman, and asked that his name be withdrawn. He moved to make Judge Wall's nomination unanimous. But Mr. Sallee wouldn't grant the Doctor's request. "This is the only opportunity we'll have for a little fun this afternoon," said the Commonwealth's Attorney.

Mr. John L. Whittaker moved as a substitute that Mr. Chenoweth be elected Chairman and asked Judge Wall to put the nomination to the house. The Major remonstrated, but the house refused to listen to him and he was unanimously chosen Chairman.

On motion of Dr. Owens, M. F. Marsh, Wm. Havens and Geo. W. Sulser were elected Secretaries.

Judge Wall said he believed it was generally recognized that Mason County Democrats were unanimously in favor of the re-nomination of Congressman Paynter. He therefore offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Mason County heartily commends the action of the Democratic members upon all questions that have come before the present Congress, and endorses and approves the position and votes of its Representative, the Hon. Thomas H. Paynter.

Resolved, That the Hon. Thomas H. Paynter has made us an honest, faithful and capable member, and his re-nomination is warmly urged upon the Democracy of the Ninth District.

Resolved, That all Democrats of the county are selected as delegates to the convention to be held at Catlettsburg on Tuesday, Sept. 16th, 1890, and instructed to cast the vote of Mason for the Hon. Thomas H. Paynter, as our candidate for Representative and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination and election.

Resolved, That the Democratic papers of the district be requested to publish the proceedings of this convention.

He moved the adoption of the resolutions, and there was not a dissenting voice when the question was put to the house.

The Chairman called attention to the fact that a special train would leave Augusta at 6 a. m. Tuesday, September 16th, to carry delegates to the convention. He also urged all Democrats to attend. They would have an opportunity of listening to a speech from Hon. Roger Q. Mills, the distinguished statesman from Texas.

A motion was unanimously adopted to invite Mr. Mills to speak at Maysville.

The convention then adjourned. The special train for Catlettsburg tomorrow will pass Maysville at 6:30 a. m. Fare for the round trip very low—only $1.75. The indications are that it will take a large crowd from this city and county.

You can't keep the South down. Just read this: The population of the fourteen Southern States in 1880 was 16,182,336; in 1890, 19,864,000. In 1880 the total output of pig iron was 350,456 tons, and in 1890 1,780,909 tons. Of the thirty-six iron furnaces now under construction in the United States twenty-five are in the South. During the past ten years 20,000 miles of new railroads were constructed—an increase of 100 per cent.—and during the first six months of the present year the South has contributed 58 per cent. of the new mileage. Her progress in every way—especially in mining and manufacturing—has been phenomenal in the past decade. And the end is not yet.

It is gratifying news to Democrats that "Foraker will be heard in the Ohio campaign." Let's see. This fellow Foraker was heard in the last campaign in the Buckeye State. The country knows the result, but the Maysville Republican seems to have forgotten all about it.

Boring Snails.

Naturalists have long been acquainted with those enterprising sea urchins which cut their way into hard rocks. Urchins provided with a boring apparatus have been found on the shores of France, England, Algeria, the Azores, the India islands, California, Panama, Australia, Mauritius and recently on the island of Grand Manan, N. B. It seems that they share their talent with some of the snails. The snails, of course, bore rocks out of water.

A block of compact, blackish gray lime stone was recently sent from Constantine to the Academy of Sciences in Paris. The stone was riddled with hemispherical perforations. At the end of each of these small arched passages slept a snail, a Helix aspersa.

The specimen was put in the museum gallery of geology in October. The journey from Algeria had not disturbed its tenants, and they passed a quiet winter. One day in May while the stone was being sketched they suddenly roused themselves, came out and would have crawled away had they not been captured.

A scientist decided the question as to whether they secreted an acid which corroded the stone, or cut their way by means of hard, sharp structures in the feet, in this way. He killed a snail by holding it under water, took it from its shell and put it into sulphuric acid. All the animal substance of the snail was rapidly carbonized and dissolved by the acid. This was washed away with water, and a hard, insoluble substance was left.

The hard, irregular grains were evidently flint. There was of course no indication as to where in the body of the snail they had been, but it is reasonable to suppose that they composed the structure by which he had bored holes in the limestone.—Youth's Companion.

Brown Bread and Ice Cream.

People who have a taste for ice cream, and a liking for this dish is not altogether limited to women, should try the fad of eating Boston brown bread with their cream. It is a combination that will delight any lover of good living. The other night three young men dined at a quite popular restaurant down town, and when it came time for them to have some dessert one proposed that they should try this novelty. Unfortunately, the restaurant did not have an excellent quality of ice cream and had no brown bread at all, so the young men went to another restaurant near by where both are obtainable. There is sold there a most excellent ice cream which is called Italian, though it might just as well be called Russian or French, or anything else. It is rich and yellow and flavored with the vanilla bean, which is ground up and sprinkled through the cream, so that it looks very much as if pepper had been thrown in it. A spoonful of this ice cream placed upon the edge of a slice of Boston brown bread is a mouthful to linger over and remember with pleasure. This combination is far better than the more common one of Boston brown bread ice cream, which is really nothing more than ice cream frozen, with the crumbs of brown bread mingled in it.—New York Sun.

Detection of Oleo in Butter.

Dr. Thomas Taylor, microscopist of the United States department of agriculture, proposes the following new method of detecting oleo in butter: Dissolve in twenty cubic centimeters of petroleum benzine 140 grains of mixture of oleo and butter. Heat slightly to secure a perfect solution of the fats. Cassine and animal tissues may be readily removed by passing the liquid while warm through fine muslin. Fill a test tube with the solution and place in ice water. In about twenty minutes the oleo fats will separate from the butter fat and fall to the bottom of the tube, being insoluble in cold benzine, while the butter fat will remain in solution in the benzine. Separate the oleo fat from the liquid butter fat by filtration. The fat recovered may be solidified by mechanical pressure, placing it between several layers of bibulous paper to absorb the remaining benzine, after which the sheet of solid oleo may be removed from the paper with a palette knife. The butter may be recovered by evaporating the benzine by means of a sand bath.—New York Telegram.

Fooing a Balky Horse.

A horse car nag balked in front of the Universalist church at 6:30 one evening and declined to go further in the direction of Greenville. The driver, after striking the bell to go ahead, tried several times to coax the animal forward without avail. Finding he could not have his way he concluded to let the horse have his; so turning the horses round he attached them to the other end of the car and started toward Franklin square, an eighth of a mile away. The horses made good time to that terminus of the road in front of the Wauregan house. They were then taken to the Greenville end of the car and given another start. They were given a free rein, and passed the Universalist church at a rate of speed which promised to make up for the delay caused by the driver's maneuver. That driver had evidently argued with the horse before, and knew just how to calm him down and make him do his best.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

Genuine Maine Humor.

"He's a horrid wretch, and I won't do no such a thing!" exclaimed an old lady who had just come out of the Aroostook and who was riding along the Maine Central road, bound for Burnham station. She was asked the trouble, and then she said she "Never did see such a sassy feller as the brakeman who had opened the door and cried out: 'Burnham, Burnham, change for Unity, Thorndike, Knox, Brooks and Belfast. Do not leave your packages nor umbrellas in the car—Burn-um, Burn-um!'" She said she had some twisted doughnuts, a homemade cheese, some homemade socks and a patchwork quilt which she was bringing down to her darter Nancy, and she shouldn't "burn um for nobody nor nothing."—Lewiston Journal.

The appliance of hydraulic power to the manufacture of steel seamless boats is one of the latest things in England. These boats are thought to be in every particular superior to those made of wood and can be made at about the same cost.

FLEXIBLE, DAINTY, HEALTHFUL.

Cork Sole Turned Shoes

Are as flexible and dainty as the finest turn, and are the easiest walking Shoe made, the cork acting as a cushion to the foot. The cork being secured in a pocket, thus forming a part of the Shoe, it is impossible for it to work loose or break up. They are also the most healthful Shoe, as CORK IS A NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT AND MOISTURE. It prevents the warmth of the bottom of the foot from radiating and escaping in cold weather, and in warm weather it prevents the heat from the pavements from penetrating the foot.

LADIES wearing our Cork Soled Turned Shoes needn't fear cold, hot, damp or rough walks. They are as flexible and dainty a Shoe as the lightest turned Shoe made. Come and see them; they are a thing of beauty and comfort. Come and see, also, the largest retail stock of Boots and Shoes in the State. Selling at 25 per cent. less than anybody else sells them.

There are 961,119 cars used, of which 25,665 are in the passenger service and 854,031 in the freight service; 23,540 passenger cars and 66,513 freight cars are fitted with automatic train brakes.

AN exchange says if our farms are "running out" such should not be the case. In England, where the soil has been cultivated for centuries, the land is richer to-day than ever before. This is due to farms being small and well manured. Every square foot of land in England is made to yield something, if used for farming, and the aim is always to add more plant food than the crop removes.

Eriessons Remains.

They Are Removed From the Baltimore at Stockholm.

RECEIVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

An Enormous Procession Follows the Remains to the Railway Station and They are Then Taken to the Great Inventor's Birthplace—Other Foreign News.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 15.—The body of Eriessons was removed from the United States war ship Baltimore yesterday and conveyed ashore in a royal barge, which was plainly draped in black. Upon landing, the casket was carried by sailors of the Baltimore to the pavilion specially erected to receive it. The governor of Stockholm received the body. After the brief formal remarks attending the transfer, the body was escorted by an enormous procession to the railway station.

The cortege was headed by the official representatives of the king, the crown prince, the American ministers to Sweden and Denmark, the officers of the Baltimore, bodies of infantry and cavalry, and many distinguished Swedish officials and citizens. At the station the body was placed in an elaborately draped carriage and conveyed by special train to Filipstad near the great engineers birth place. Here the body will lie in state until the public funeral and interment.

It is estimated that 100,000 people witnessed the transfer of the body from the Baltimore to the railway station. Minute guns were fired by the shore forts and the Baltimore's guns while the body was being landed. Admiral Peyron, head of the Swedish navy, was in command of the funeral barge, and accepted the body for conveyance ashore. The harbor was a mass of flags, vessels of all nations doing honor to the dead. The quays and the streets leading to the railway station were thronged with people, who uncovered their heads and maintained a most respectful demeanor.

Tuesday the Baltimore's officers will be entertained at official banquets and receive other honors at the hands of the representatives of the grateful people. On every side praise of the American people and government is heard. On Wednesday the officers of the Baltimore will dine with the king at the royal palace in Drothningholm.

ZANZIBAR, Sept. 15.—An official German notice has been published at Bagamoyo, permitting everybody to traffic freely in slaves, and only prohibiting their exportation by sea. Armenian Patriarchs Resign.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15.—The Armenian Patriarchs has again resigned on a plea of ill health. The resignation is really a protest against the negligence displayed in regard to the proposed administrative reforms in Armenia.

OIL CARS WRECKED.

Two Men Killed and One Other Probably Fatally Injured.

LIMA, O., Sept. 15.—A horrible accident occurred in the railroad yards here early Sunday morning, which resulted in the death of two men and the probable fatal injury to another. The accident occurred shortly after midnight when the night crew were switching freight cars. Several cars of oil were being pushed ahead of an engine without any headlight.

In backing down in the dark the cars struck Dallas Carter, one of the employees, who was walking on the track. Mr. Carter was a very large man, and his body threw the cars from the rails. Conductor Charles Smith was between two of the oil tanks and was instantly crushed to death. Brakeman Miles was thrown from the cars over a twenty-five foot embankment, and seriously and perhaps fatally injured.

The Same Old Story.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 15.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the 10-year-old son of Pan-Handle Engineer Charles Beam, with a companion, came home from Sunday school, and finding a revolver in a drawer, Beam pointed it playfully at his companion. The latter begged him to desist, but the boy laughingly assured him it was not loaded, and to convince him placed the revolver to his own throat and pulled the trigger. The weapon exploded, killing him instantly, the ball passing out at the base of the brain.

Death Under a Train.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 15.—Ben. Jackson, colored, a car coupler, met with a horrible death under a train of cars at the Georgia railroad freight yard here yesterday. He had coupled two cars, when his foot tripped and he fell beneath the wheels and was mangled almost beyond recognition.

Unsuccessful Burglars.

LEBANON, Pa., Sept. 15.—An unsuccessful attempt was made by burglars Friday night to blow open the safe in the Philadelphia and Reading railroad depot at Anville, the entire side of the building being wrecked by dynamite. Railroad tickets are the only things the burglars secured.

RUSSIA AND THE JEWS.

An Important Communication from Minister C. E. Smith.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The following letter from Charles Emory Smith was in response to a letter addressed to our minister in Russia by Rabbi S. Morais on the condition of the Hebrews in Russia. The minister writes from London, Sept. 1, 1890, as follows:

DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 10th ult., sent to St. Petersburg, has been forwarded to me here, where I am staying for a few days, and I hasten to reply. You ask whether the recent report of restrictive measures directed against Hebrews in Russia is founded on fact. This is the only period of the year when I could be away from my post, making necessary preparations for the coming winter, and I was absent from Russia when the report to which you refer to first appeared.

But the subject is one in which no representative of the United States could fail to feel a deep interest, and immediately took steps to ascertain whether the statement, which attracted such wide attention, had any foundation or warrant. The legation of the United States instituted prompt inquiries in common with those of several other nations, and received the most positive assurance from the Russian government that the report was entirely groundless. The imperial authorities stated not only that no new restrictive measures had been taken against the Hebrews, and no such old and obsolete ones revived, but no such measure had been contemplated.

In view of these denials the lord mayor of London, himself a conspicuous and honored Hebrew, some time since announced the abandonment of a projected public indignation meeting which had been called when the report of intended persecutions was first published. I recall our personal meetings with great pleasure, and well remember your high standing among your people, and I am glad to be able to convey these assurances to you and them. With great respects I am sincerely yours, CHARLES EMORY SMITH.

A Woman Gets Away With the Money.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Anna M. Adams, for many years proprietress of the Hotel Ridgeway, in this city, has left town, leaving various business men here to mourn her departure to the extent of between $8,000 and $12,000. She has been in the habit of giving her dealers notes and worthless checks, and in attempting to present them at the bank they found that no money was deposited to meet them. Her assets will not come to over $1,000. George Myers, a meat dealer, is the principal loser, Mrs. Adams being $1,800 in his debt.

Sealskins to be Sold Early.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A telegram from San Francisco was received Friday to the effect that the Alaska Commercial company is secretly shipping its entire catch of 62,000 Siberian sealskins to London to be sold in October. The usual time for selling these sealskins in February taken by the Alaska company is a part of its policy in conducting its warfare against the North American Commercial company which now has the lease of Alaskan waters for seal hunting.
